14 days for $5,295 from San Francisco — air & land inclusive

Encounter this land of dramatic contrasts through its ancient ruins and sacred mosques, endless desert and storied mountains, imposing kasbahs and spirited souks. Travel from the imperial cities of Rabat, Fez, and Marrakech to the Atlas Mountains and vast Sahara, to experience a truly foreign land, an age-old culture, and genuinely hospitable people.

Saturday, April 28: Depart U.S. for Casablanca, Morocco

Sunday, April 29: Casablanca/Rabat After arriving in Casablanca, the commercial center of Morocco (and of all North Africa), travel to Rabat and check in at your hotel near famed Hassan Tower. Tonight enjoy a welcome dinner at a local restaurant in Rabat's Old Town. L,D

Monday, April 30: Rabat One of Morocco's four ancient capitals, or imperial cities, Rabat is again the country's capital, at once historic and contemporary. Enjoy a morning briefing at the U.S. Embassy. Visit the fortified Kasbah of the Oudaia, the peaceful Andalusian Gardens, and the necropolis of Chellah, built on ancient Roman ruins. Then cross the river to Sale to tour Musée Belghazi, Africa's largest private museum. Late afternoon, return to your hotel, where we'll dine tonight. B,L,D

Tuesday, May 1: Rabat/Meknes/Volubilis/Fez This morning depart Rabat for Fez, stopping along the way in Meknes, Morocco's youngest imperial city (and UNESCO World Heritage site). Visit the Bab el Mansour gateway and the ruins of the imperial stables before lunch in a local restaurant. Continue on to the ancient Roman ruins at the UNESCO site of Volubilis, known for its intricate and colorful mosaics; and the holy town of Moulay Idriss. Reach Fez late afternoon and your elegant hotel adjacent to the medina (old city), another UNESCO World Heritage site. B,L,D educational, and religious institutions. Begin with a walking tour of Fez’s fascinating medina, a UNESCO World Heritage site, focusing on the artisans’ quarters, the 14th-century Koranic schools, and Al Karaouine, the medieval theological university. Return to the hotel for lunch and some time at leisure then mid-afternoon tour the old mellah (Jewish quarter) and its 17th-century synagogue, the royal gates, and the Museum of Fez. Tonight enjoy a private dinner in a traditional family home. B,L,D

Thursday, May 3: Fez This morning visit a Berber village where residents live much as their ancestors did centuries ago. Share tea with a local family in their cave dwelling then continue on to whitewashed Sefrou, an old Jewish town at the foot of the Middle Atlas Mountains. En route back to Fez, stop at the renowned pottery factories. Enjoy lunch on your own in Fez before gathering for a private Arabic music concert where we learn about the different local styles. B,D

Friday, May 4: Fez/Midelt/Erfoud Traveling inland today, cross the fertile plains beyond Fez and continue through the Middle Atlas mountain range. Stop in the small town of Midelt for lunch. Continuing on cross the Ziz River, passing rows of towering palm trees and fortified villages before reaching your kasbah-style hotel in Erfoud late in the day. Dinner tonight is at our hotel. B,L,D

Saturday, May 5: Erfoud/Rissani/Merzouga This morning visit the city of Rissani, with its 18th-century ksar, a virtually impenetrable warren of alleys; then continue on to the ruins of Sijilmassa. Enjoy a tour highlight this afternoon as you set out on a sunset excursion to the breathtakingly beautiful sand dunes at Merzouga on the edge of the Sahara. In the enormous silence watch the sun set over the desert while taking a camel ride along the dunes. Return to the hotel for dinner this evening. B,D

Sunday, May 6: Erfoud/Tinehir/Todra Gorges/Ouarzazate Visit the snow-topped High Atlas today. The day features one beautiful scene after another, including the village of Tinehir, a stunning mountain oasis rising on a series of riverside terraces lush with palm trees; and the spectacular 984-foot Todra Gorge, home to a variety of rare bird and plant species. Following lunch here visit El Kelaa des Mgouna, known for its roses, then set out on the fabled “Route of a Thousand Kasbahs” ancient caravan route, a region of fortresses with elaborately decorated façades. Late afternoon arrive in the town of Ouarzazate (the “door of the desert”) and spend the night here. B,L,D

Monday, May 7: Ouarzazate/Ait ben-Haddou/Marrakech En route to Marrakech today, stop first at uninhabited Ait ben-Haddou, a UNESCO World Heritage site and one of southern Morocco’s most scenic villages (it’s often used as a location for fashion and film shoots). Its old section consists of deep red kasbahs packed together so tightly they appear to be a single unit. Begin the descent from the High Atlas, passing through typical villages with fortified walls and stone houses with earthen roofs. In Tizi N’Tichka, traverse the Pass of the Pastures (alt. 7,415 feet), where life is much as it was centuries ago: shepherds bring their flocks to the high pastures every summer, then return with them to their villages in autumn. Arrive in Marrakech late this afternoon and dine tonight at the hotel. B,L,D

Tuesday, May 8: Marrakech Once the capital of southern Morocco, the imperial city of Marrakech is an alluring oasis with a temperate climate, distinct charm, and fascinating sights. A day-long tour includes the beautifully proportioned Koutoubia Mosque with its distinctive 282-foot minaret visible from miles away; the beautiful Andalusian-style El Bahia Palace (part of which is still used by the royal family); and the ruins of 16th-century Palais El Badii. After lunch at the hotel, embark mid-afternoon on a walking tour of the medina, ending at Djemaa el Fna Square, a UNESCO site and the heart of Marrakech, crowded with snake charmers, entertainers, storytellers, musicians, barbers, and sellers of fruit, water, and spices. Dinner tonight is on your own in this exotic city. B,L

Wednesday, May 9: Marrakech This morning tour the expansive Majorelle Gardens, a private botanical garden with some 15 species of birds native to North Africa and known for its cobalt blue accents. Learn more about Moroccan cuisine with lunch on your own or by taking an optional cooking lesson including a visit to the local market for ingredients. Before dinner at a local restaurant in the city's Old Town, we have a unique opportunity to visit with an Imam and learn more about the Islamic religion. B,D

Thursday, May 10: Marrakech/Casablanca Leave Marrakech this morning by coach for storied Casablanca, Morocco's largest and most cosmopolitan city. Stop for lunch en route. Highlights of this afternoon's city tour include the harbor area and central market, the Royal Palace, Habous Quarter ("New Medina"), and the magnificent Hassan II Mosque, Morocco's only functioning mosque open to non-Muslims.
